LONG WEEKEND COMING OUR WAY

This year Thanksgiving Day will be celebrated on Monday, October 12th. Most stores, most offices and other places of business will be closed for the day.

The Pioneer staff are no different than you, we'd like to take the day off too, relax and think about how much we can be thankful for. 'Tis to day to stop for a few moments to think things over and realize how fortunate we are to be living in our present surroundings.

By the way, we'd appreciate having ad copy and news budgets in a little earlier than usual for next week's issue.

NEW C.P.R. AGENT ON THE WAY

Mr. L. G. Martin, relief C.P.R. agent from Galt, will be here today to replace Mr. M. Shainson, who has retired and moved to Calgary to take up residence with his family there. Mr. J. A. Grove, of Gull Lake, Sask., will arrive later in the month to fill the position of agent at this point.

A space law specialist said Tuesday any pictures Lunik III gets of the far side of the moon would help the Soviet Union lay claim to the moon.

Andrew G. Haley general counsel for the International Astronautical Federation, said if Russia gets the pictures, it will have achieved two of the three steps required for legal claim.

The first step was taken he said, when the Russians claimed to have implanted their pennant on the moon. Then, Mr. Haley fulfilled the requirement for placing a symbol on the property desired.

Haley described the second requirement as to discover, explore or map the property, which he said the pictures would fulfill.

The third step, he said, is to place a man on the moon and to survey it from a manned lunar satellite.

While the Russians have disavowed any lunar claims on the basis hitting the moon with their pennant rocket, Haley said, they almost certainly will make a claim if they photograph the other side.

Shell Open Bulk Station

Shell Oil Company now have a new bulk oil station in operation in Didsbury, located on a large lot in the northwest corner of town, facing the railroad tracks.

The company is most interested in the economical future of Didsbury and is most happy to become a part of the community.

The approximate cost of the new station is $25,000 and when finished will be one of the most modern of its kind in the immediate trading area. One of the features of the new station is underground storage tanks.

All local help was employed in construction of the plant and Jay Tugge a native of Didsbury, will be the one who will meet the customers.

Films covering many fields and subjects are available on request from Shell Oil at no cost to any station looking for entertainment. Contact Jay Tugge for more information.

Client: "Yes, he hasn't shown up in nearly two years."

THE PASTOR WINS . . .

A Saturday night backslider suddenly began attending church faithfully on Sunday mornings. The pastor was highly gratified and told him: "How wonderful it makes me feel to see you at service with your good wife!"

"Well, Pastor," said the prodigal. "It's a matter of choice — I'd rather hear your sermon than hers."

Special Service At Lutheran Church

The members and friends of Redeemer Lutheran Church, Didsbury, will assemble on Sunday, October 11th at 11:00 o'clock to join in a special service of praise and thanksgiving.

Commenting on this year's Thanksgiving service, Pastor E. B. Fox stated: "Because of the halting manner in which people attended, followed by the unfavorable harvest weather which has delayed these operations, and in some instances due to excessive moisture, caused the swaths to sprout, some may feel that there is little for which to be thankful. However, we humans are so prone to look at the gifts given us by the Giver. We are like the young lady who received a diamond ring from her beloved. She was so enthralled by this gift that she devoted all her time to it, forgetting all about the giver. It seemed she had fallen in love with the ring and out of love with her lover. For this reason, we urge the Giver our entire service will direct our attention to Him who gives us all that we need."

The service will not follow the regular service of the Morning Service, but rather it will be a song service with congregations giving expression to the blessings they have had in year and year out. Between the hymns the Pastor will give brief meditations on the theme of the day, based on the Creed. The service will begin at 11:00 o'clock as Redeemer reverts to its winter schedule on Sunday, October 11th.

Joint Meeting Held At Lone Pine Hall

A joint meeting of the Lone Pine W.I. Citizen Committee was held at the hall on Monday evening, September 21st. It was decided to start a building fund for necessary alterations to Lone Pine Hall.

This hall has been in continuous use since it was opened in 1924. It has served the community well, bearing the setting for numerous dances, Christmas concerts, weddings, farewells and many other social gatherings.

More space is needed to accommodate the growing younger generation.

To provide more floor space both upstairs and in the basement an addition will have to be made. This will provide a new entry, stage and ladies' room. A new heating unit will also be needed. It was decided to contact all organizations using the hall for their support.

Two projects have already been launched. One is to have a draw for the following prizes: first, a television set; second, a record player; third, battery lantern.

The other project is to be a bingo at Lone Pine Hall on November 14 for prizes such as turkeys, chickens, chocolates, and numerous other prizes.

RUNS FROM WEDDING TO HIDE IN WOODS

An 18-day search for missing Jean Schweitzer of Evans, ended when he showed up at home and announced that he had been hiding in the woods since the day before he was supposed to get married.

He said he wanted to call off the wedding but lacked the nerve to tell his bride-to-be.

WESCO'S SR. W.I.
HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. Raymond Shantz was hostess for the October meeting of the Western Sr. W.I., at which roll call was answered by "An industry and where it is located."

The topic "Canadian Industries" was given by Mrs. MacFarlane and dealt with new industries recently started in Alberta, particularly in the Edmonton area.

Mrs. Shantz's five-minute talk was on the flying ambulances now being used in parts of the U.S.

The convenor, Mrs. A. M. Robertson, paid her annual visit to the group.

LOW FARM PRICES ARE HURTING . . .

Depressed world prices for several agricultural commodities are causing economical adjustments in some of the major exporting countries. Radio communications production has been the principal cause for the price decline which has ranged from 30 to more than 80 percent. The International Federation of Agricultural Producers quotes a U.S. report which states that prices to coffee growers have dropped nearly 50 percent — despite agreements by major coffee producers to withhold supplies; wool prices declined 30 to 50 percent between May 1957 and January 1959; sugar prices for one-eighth of world trade outside of the international sugar council dropped to the lowest price since World War II.

It is the same old story — heavy production and low prices.

the group.

The bit of fun was taken by Mrs. Baudistel, and Mrs. J. Robertson had the report from the C.A.C.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cliff Eckstrand.

CREMONA NEWS

From Our Own Correspondent

The Cremona United Church W.A. met in the lounge in Curtains, Friday, when Mrs. Magee was hostess to a group of 17 ladies. Plans were made to begin a friendship quilt as a money making project.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jones and family of Calgary were Saturday visitors with Mrs. M. Reid last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lane, Ada Marie, Rick and Marion were Cremona visitors last weekend.

Mr. Lawrence Bergeson is one of the watchmen at the scrubbing plant.

Harvesting operations are again delayed by a fresh fall of snow in the district. The bulk of the combining and threshing is still waiting to be done.

The community hall has had a new cement floor poured in the basement.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilson have sold their farm and are planning an auction sale the end of this month.

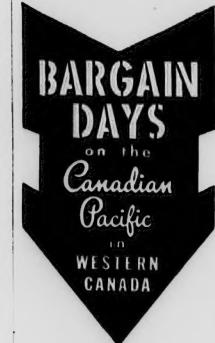

Rev. and Mrs. Magee and family were Sunday visitors with the Alan Reid's.

Mrs. Cecil Fry formerly of Cremona, Joyce and her husband Gordon, visited with the Doug Birds and other friends in the district last week. Joyce and Gordon were enroute to Bellevue, Ont., after spending six months in B.C. and the two years previous to that in Germany. They are looking forward to a permanence.

Town Elections Next Week . . .

As we mentioned in this column last week, this year's town elections, which come up next Wednesday, should prove interesting. If you are eligible to cast a ballot, let's see you at the polls. The dark horses as well as the other horses should be in for force for this one. A definite decision must be made on how the town coffers should be treated. We quote the same old phrase (it never wears out): Vote as you like, but please make your presence known, at the poll.

Demolition Work To Start . . .

Rumors have it that the buildings which now occupy the talked about site of our new post office will be removed sometime this month. We understand work on the new postal palace will start shortly after the site is cleared and will fall under the "Winter Works" program. Good news, no less! Now then what happened to the provincial five-year program, insofar as "our town" is concerned? How many times have we asked this question? How many more times will we have to ask it before we get a sensible answer?

Another Famous Quote . . .

"As to people saying a few idle words about us, we must not mind that any more than the old church steeple minds the rooks cawing about it."

Guest Editorial

HULLABALOO OVER GAS

One of the more interesting features arising from the arrival of Alberta natural gas in Ontario is the tremendous furor being stirred up over the dangers attached to it. A feature article in the last issue of Maclean's was devoted to the problems being experienced. Newspapers are insisting on reports of regulations, words and stories of the mishaps which are taking place. An article received this week from an Eastern writer suggests that one of the principle functions of the newly appointed National Energy Board will be to remove some of the public doubts and misgivings over the use of natural gas.

It would be comical to many Albertans, did not give rise to the feeling that the gas which is being created by interests opposed to the introduction of this cheap, convenient fuel to the Eastern area. To Albertans who are accustomed to think of gas installation as being just an automatic as the installation of power and water, it seems strange to hear all the argument and bitter controversy.

However, it is probable that the East will learn to live with gas, and that they should realize the vast difference between manufactured and natural gas in explosiveness. They should come to know that, just as with electricity, there are certain safeguards which must be taken. There is a responsibility on the part of the merchants selling gas appliances, on the manufacturers of the companies distributing fuel and the government authorities regulating public utilities. It is important to Albertans that the fuel be sold, so the effective distribution of it is equally important, too.

The most proper comment here in Camrose is that the only thing about gas bothering us is the recent increase in price.

CANADIAN TEACHERS HAVE 'CUSHY JOBS'

For every dedicated teacher, 100 look upon teaching as a soft way to earn a dollar, Hugh Garner charged recently in Liberty magazine.

"Thousands of Canadians have entered what is today our country's most pampered profession. Teaching offers a so-called professional standing; an aura of social respectability; and more vacations than any other white-collar job. The attitude of the average Canadian teacher is to be in with the tide, until paid enough for promotion. This assures a teacher of a calm security, and his pupils of a minimum education," Garner said.

Highest maximum teachers' salaries in Canadian elementary and secondary schools run from $8,300 in Toronto, to $5,955 in Saint John. N.B. Salary recommendations that exclude any merit rating plan were recently adopted by the Ontario Teachers' Federation. "Teaching is the only profession in Canada which is paid for by labour, and not by the quality of the work," writes Garner.

Last year 756 Ontario elementary and secondary school teachers had no professional qualifications at all. Some didn't reach grade eight level in qualification tests. Less than eight percent of 568 students at the Ontario College of Education, N.B., had an average of 75 percent or more in junior matriculation examinations. Grade eleven education, a junior matriculation certificate and a Letter of Standing from a Provincial Board of Education is all that is presently required from most Canadian centres to teach.

There will be a surplus of teachers in Ontario in 1961, the Ontario School Trustee Council and the Ontario Teachers' Federation said recently in a joint statement. "This will bring competition back into the teaching trade," said Garner.

It might even end the missed notes that often startle young mothers, when young Johnny has brought them home from his teacher."

Announcing
Meteor for 1960

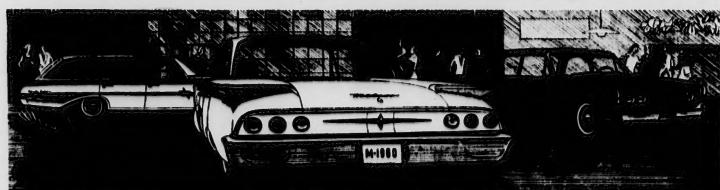

Canada's idea car of the year—and looks it!

Meteor's originality for 1960 shows in its three distinctive roof styles. From glamourous grille to taillight grouping, Meteor is unmistakably Canadian. Every flowing line is pure-bred function—its beauty tells you so! Power is new! Both Tempest V-8's and famous Econ-O-Fuel Six deliver maximum power at speeds you drive most. Standard engines purr best at low cost; regular grade gasoline. New standard full-flow oil filter allows up to 4,000 miles between oil changes. New lavish interiors provide more leg room, head room, and shoulder room. Doors open wider. New seat height is more comfortable with standard front seat foam cushioning. New smooth ride comes from a wider tread, a new front suspension and self-leveling rear suspension. New, 25% bigger brakes are largest in Meteor's field. In every way, Meteor is Canada's idea car of the year. See the most distinctive Meteor ever—at your Meteor-Mercury-Frontenac dealer now.

FALL ROSE CARE

Watering and maintaining are the main factors involved in keeping severe winters.

Sack the ground after the first killing frost until well into October.

This more than anything else will ward off

winterkill which results from a drying out of the wood.

By KATHLEEN CARNEY

The fall season has rolled around once again, which means that this is my last new column to you, as I am returning to teach at the Olds School of Agriculture for the fall term. I must say that it has been a very pleasant summer working with you people, and I am sure that your new District Home Economist, Miss Albertine Scheistrate will enjoy her work in this district as much as I have.

DAHlias and GLADIOLUS

Dahlia plants may be dug when the foliage has been flattened to the ground by frost. This is cut off an inch or so above the surface of the ground, and the large tuberous root clumps are allowed to dry until the soil just falls off. The intact clumps are then packed in granulated peat moss, vermiculite or clean, almost dry sand and stored where the temperature can be maintained at 35 degrees F. for 45 degrees F. for the winter.

Dahlias are deciduous when leaves begin to wither from maturity or frost. Dry in the sun and remove tops by cutting them off one inch above the corm. Temporary storage at a temperature of 80 degrees F. for 10 to 14 days will speed up the corm ripening process necessary for sound storage. A light flame of 5 percent alcohol, directed over them will eliminate any living thins during this period.

TRANSPLANTING PEONIES

September is the time to transplant and divide peonies advises Alberta's Supervisor of Horticulture, P.D. McCallum. Plants ten years old or more respond very favorably to division, he says, but those under three years of age should not be divided.

When digging up peonies make sure that you keep 15 to 18 inches away from the plants so that the roots will not be bruised or injured. When the plant is out of the ground shake it thoroughly and lay it in the sun for two or three hours. Trim roots which have lost their brittleness and will be much easier to separate. Use a sharp knife to divide the peony and cut it at its weakest points. Each part should have at least four strong roots and the foliage should be cut back to two inches.

Guesting Again . . .

THE RUSSIAN BEAR DANCES BUT CAN STILL BITE

A highlight of Ed Sullivan's television show Sunday, made up of acts filmed in Russia, was a large-tailed bear that danced, twirled logs and performed a variety of gymnastics. As the T-V show was being broadcast here, the popular gentleman who was responsible to a Russian bear has not been missed by Walt Kelly, creator of the comic strip, "Pogo", was leaving the U.S. after a two-week goodwill tour. Nikita Khrushchev, adopting the smiling attitude of a kindly grandfather, put on a remarkable act during his visit to the continent. An act that is about as foreign to the nation as dancing is to the nature of Ed Sullivan's brown bear.

Khrushchev's visit undoubtedly has warmed the feeling between the U.S.A. and Russia, but serious repercussions can result if the people of the West fall for the Red bear's "good fellow" routine, mistake it for a genuine friend.

We must bear in mind that the smiling Khrushchev is the same uneducated peasant who joined the Communist party 40 years ago, because it represented his only hope for success. Driven by a relentless ambition, he focused so strongly on his goal to get to the top that contrary, reasonable means must have winked at to achieve his ends. He has risen, his hands dripping with blood, to the position of ultimate power, his whim controlling the very life and death of one-third of the world's population.

Let us not deceive ourselves . . .

the same ambition that has brought Khrushchev to his present position has not yet been satisfied. Nor will it be sated until he controls the destiny of every soul on earth.

Television viewers, who looked closely, would have noticed that the amiable Russian bear on the Ed Sullivan show wore a muzzle. Like Khrushchev, he will be "muzzled" and under control with military might, a potential but stick that can be lowered abruptly on his head should he become carried away with his ambition.

Our preparedness must not be allowed to slacken. The Russian bear dances . . . but we must remember, it can still bite.
